HE HAD CHANGED.

The old Virginia colonel had lands on which there was a big deposit of coal, and though half a dezen parties had tried to purchase of him each one had failed to hit him right. A Baltimore syndicate finally sent a lawyer down and the lawyer skirmished around to find out the old man's pecultarities before bringing up the land question. He was told that he would surely get the land if he praised the colonel's war record, and one day he went over fully primed and began:

"Colonel, war is a dreadful thing, "Powerful bad, sah-powerful bad," was the reply.

"But it affores individuals an opportuuity to win glory and fame. Take your case, for instance. You went into the late war as a private, I believe?"

"Yes, sah-as a private." "And you came out as a colonel?"

"Yes, sah-ss a kurnel."
"You couldn't have done that without being a brave man-the bravest of the brave. You made a record to b broud of forevermore.' 'Well, I did the best I could," mod e-tly replied the colonel.

"They tell me," resumed the lawyer,
"that you saved Lee's army at Antic-

tam. "Mebbe so, mebbe so." "And you saved Stonewall Jackson at Chancellorsville?" "Perhaps I did, sab." "And again you saved Lee at Gettys

"I have heard others say so, sah. Ex-cuse me, but did yo' wish to see me on business this mawnin'?".

"I called to see about that land, colonel. I have heard also that if you could have had your way about things Richmond would never have surrendered."

"Jest so, sah-jest so. Had yo' come here a month ago and praised my war record as yo' hev I should hev sold yo' that land, but I hev changed, sah-I nev changed. I have gone out of the war and gone into religion. What is

"I am undecided which creed to accept," replied the lawyer, thinking to eccept the colonel's as soon as he could find out what it was.

"Then, sab, it is no use for us to talk further. Any man of your age and in-telligence who hasn't had his mind made up for the last 10 years to live and die in the Baptist religion is a daugerous subject to be at large, and I wish yo' good mawnin' sah-good mawnin'."-[Chicago News.

Story of a Slave.

To be bound hand and foot for years by the chains of disease is the worst form of slavery. George D. Williams, of Manchester, Mich., tells how such a slave was made free. He says: "My wife has been so helpless for five years that she could not turn over in bed alone. After using two bottles of Electric Bitters, she is wonderfully improved and able to do her own work."
